Cargo revenue increased 57% year-over-year for the quarter as continued improvements in demand drove strength in both volume and yields across all regions, particularly trans-Pacific markets.

Maintained Strong Unit Cost Control

Total consolidated expense, including fuel and excluding non-cash net mark-to-market hedge gains and certain accounting charges, increased $455 million, or 11.1% year-over-year for the second quarter. Consolidated expense, excluding fuel, profit sharing programs and certain accounting charges, was up $91 million or 3.1%. Total GAAP consolidated expense, including these items, was up $816 million for the quarter.

Consolidated CASM, excluding fuel, profit sharing programs and certain accounting charges, increased by 1.9% year-over-year in the second quarter against a consolidated capacity increase of 1.1%. Mainline CASM, excluding fuel, profit sharing programs and certain accounting charges, increased by 1.7% in the second quarter, against a 1.6% decline in mainline capacity. Mainline and Consolidated CASM, including these items, were up 21.1% and 19.6% respectively, compared to the year-ago quarter.

Hedged 80% of Consolidated Fuel Consumption for Third Quarter 2010

The company recorded $17 million in cash losses on fuel hedges that settled in the second quarter including hedge ineffectiveness. In addition, the company also recorded non-cash, net mark-to-market losses on its fuel hedges of $37 million. The table below details hedge impacts for the quarter:

Fuel Hedge Impacts	Included in 2Q 2010 Fuel Expense (millions)
Non-Cash Net Mark-to-Market Net Gain/(Loss)	$ (37)
Cash Net Gain/(Loss) on Settled Contracts*	(17)
Total Recorded Net Gain/(Loss)	$ (54)

* Includes impact of hedge ineffectiveness booked in the quarter

The United Building, 77 West Wacker Drive, Chicago, Illinois 60601

The company's hedge book consists of roughly 50% call options and 50% swaps, providing protection against rising fuel prices while allowing significant downside participation if fuel prices fall. For the third quarter 2010, the company has capped 80% of its estimated consolidated fuel consumption at a crude-equivalent average price of $79 per barrel. For the remainder of 2010, the company has capped 74% of its estimated consolidated fuel consumption at a crude-equivalent average price of $80 per barrel. The company will benefit from roughly 63% downside participation for the last half of 2010 if fuel prices fall.

Strong Liquidity Position Further Bolstered By Operating Cash Flow

The company ended the quarter with a total cash balance of $5.2 billion, including an unrestricted cash balance of more than $4.9 billion and restricted cash balance of $250 million.

In the second quarter, the company generated $874 million of positive operating cash flow and $801 million of positive free cash flow, defined as operating cash flow less capital expenditures. In the second quarter, the company had scheduled debt and net capital lease payments of $135 million, and non-aircraft capital expenditures of $73 million.

"We are clearly on the right path toward our goal of achieving sustained and sufficient profitability across the economic cycle," said Kathryn Mikells, UAL Corporation executive vice president and chief financial officer. "While there is more work needed, our current results, including improvements in unit revenue, cost control, cash flow and profit margin, demonstrate substantial progress against our objective."

Questions & Answers

Q1: Which fees and ancillary revenues does United include in passenger revenue and which are included in other revenue? What impact did fees and ancillary revenues have in the quarter?

A1: There is not a consistent industry practice regarding the recording and classification of ancillary and other revenues. For United, first and second bag fees and ticketing and change fees are recorded in passenger revenue. Revenue from these fees resulted in a 0.6 point decrease in consolidated PRASM year-over-year, as the growth in the passenger revenue outpaced the growth in fee revenue.

Q2: Can you provide additional commentary on line items in the income statement where there were significant year-over-year changes in non-fuel cost?

A2: Total non-fuel operating expense increased by $154 million year-over-year in the second quarter, excluding certain accounting charges, or 5.2%, as the company continued its efforts to control costs and increase revenue.

Regional Affiliates excluding fuel increased $93 million, or 17.5% as a result of an increase in regional affiliates capacity and changes in fleet mix.

Excluding the $4 million impact from special items, salaries and related costs increased $61 million, or 6.4%, largely due to $63 million in profit sharing expense accrued in the quarter. United accrues profit sharing expense on a year-to-date basis.

Distribution expenses increased $15 million, or 10.8% due primarily to the increase in passenger revenue.

Landing Fees and Other Rent increased $12 million, or 5.2% due to increases in landing fee and rental rates at our hubs. When combined with airport facility charges in Regional Affiliates and Cost of Sales, Consolidated Landing Fees & Other Rent increased by $25 million in the quarter.

Purchased Services decreased $30 million, or 10.5%, due to an expense credit associated with the TSA Infrastructure refund received by all carriers, and insourcing initiatives and negotiating improved rates with vendors.

Q3: What is the impact of the recent change to fuel accounting on the income statement for the remaining quarters of 2010 and 1Q 2011?

A3: Effective April 1, 2010, the Company designated the majority of its existing fuel derivative instrument portfolio as cash flow hedges and intends to designate new contracts as cash flow hedges for accounting purposes, when permitted. Designation of these instruments as cash flow hedges permits the deferral of the effective portions of gains or losses until contract settlement.

As of June 30, 2010 we were carrying a remaining positive market value of $36 million for the fuel derivative portfolio which was recorded as a non-cash mark-to-market gain in prior periods under our prior accounting practice. The difference between the final settlement amount of the existing hedge contracts and their value as of March 31, 2010 will be recorded in the fuel expense line in the period in which the contracts settle. The reversals of this non-cash mark-to-market balance will amount to $16 million in third quarter of 2010, $15 million in fourth quarter of 2010 and $5 million in the first quarter of 2011.

- Q4: Please describe the impact of the accounting adjustment booked in 2Q that you discussed in your June 14 Investor Update.
- A4: During the quarter the company made several normal course adjustments that increased year-over-year other airline billings by $33 million (increasing consolidated PRASM by approximately one percentage point), primarily due to an improvement in the trends of interline billing adjustments.

CONSOLIDATED NOTES (UNAUDITED)

- (1) UAL Corporation (“UAL” or the “Company”) is a holding company whose principal subsidiary is United Air Lines, Inc. (“United”).
- (2) United has contractual relationships with various regional carriers to provide regional jet and turboprop service branded as United Express. Under these agreements, United pays the regional carriers contractually agreed fees for crew expenses, maintenance expenses and other costs of operating these flights. These costs include aircraft rents of $111 million and $109 million for the three months ended June 30, 2010 and 2009, respectively, and $222 million and $216 million for the six months ended June 30, 2010 and 2009, respectively, which are included in Regional Affiliates expense in our Statements of Consolidated Operations.
- (3) UAL’s results of operations include aircraft fuel expense for both United Mainline jet operations and Regional Affiliates. Aircraft fuel expense incurred as a result of the Company’s Regional Affiliates’ operations is reflected in Regional Affiliates operating expense. In accordance with UAL’s agreement with its Regional Affiliates, these costs are incurred by the Company. Fuel hedging gains or losses are not allocated to Regional Affiliates fuel expense.

- (a) See Note 4 for further information related to fuel hedging and non-GAAP measures.
- (b) Between April 1 and June 30, 2010, the Company designated substantially all of its outstanding fuel derivative contracts (which settle in periods subsequent to June 30, 2010) as cash flow hedges under GAAP. As of June 30, 2010, the Company has recognized $146 million of accumulated other comprehensive loss on its balance sheet for these designated hedges. For the quarter ending June 30, 2010, the Company recognized $3 million in fuel expense representing the ineffective portion of these designated hedges.

CONSOLIDATED NOTES (UNAUDITED)

- (4) The Company recorded unusual and/or infrequent items related to severance, employee benefits, depreciation and amortization and other charges, as noted below. Collectively, these charges are identified as “special items and other charges” in the Regulation G reconciliations below. The Company also adjusts certain of its financial statement items and measures of financial performance to primarily present the impacts of its fuel hedging on an “economic” basis. Items calculated on an “economic” basis include gains or losses for derivative instruments that settled in the current accounting period, but were recognized in a prior period in GAAP results, and exclude changes in market value for derivatives that will be settled in a future period. These charges are identified as “non-cash, net mark-to-market (gains) losses” in the Regulation G reconciliations below. These special items and other charges and non-cash, net mark-to-market adjustments are as follows:

Pursuant to SEC Regulation G, the Company has included the following reconciliation of reported non-GAAP financial measures to comparable financial measures reported on a GAAP basis. The Company believes that excluding fuel costs from certain measures is useful to investors because it provides an additional measure of management’s performance excluding the effects of a significant cost item over which management has limited influence. The Company also believes that adjusting for special items, and other items unusual or infrequent in nature, is useful to investors because they are non-recurring items not indicative of the Company’s on-going performance. The Company began to apply cash flow hedge accounting effective April 1, 2010. Prior to the designation of fuel hedge instruments as cash flow hedges, mark-to-market gains and losses were immediately recognized in fuel expense. The Company believes that the net fuel hedge adjustments provide management and investors with a better perspective of its performance and comparison to its peers because the adjustments reflect the economic fuel cost during the periods presented and many of our peers apply cash flow hedge accounting.

The tables below set forth the reconciliation of GAAP and non-GAAP financial measures for certain operating statistics that are used in determining key indicators such as adjusted passenger revenue per revenue passenger mile (“Yield”), operating revenue per available seat mile (“RASM”), operating expense per available seat mile (“CASM”), operating margin (loss) and net income (loss).

UAL Investor Update: July 20, 2010Outlook HighlightsCapacity

Third quarter 2010 consolidated available seat miles (ASMs) are estimated to be up 1.6% to 2.6% year-over-year. Full year 2010 consolidated ASMs are estimated to be flat to up 1.0%. Our current capacity guidance represents a half a point increase from our prior full year guidance. About half of this increase is due to the capacity related to our enhanced code share agreement with Aer Lingus to provide service from Washington Dulles to Madrid, which was not anticipated to be included in our consolidated results in our prior guidance. The remaining increase is due to the elimination of scheduled paint visits in anticipation of changing our livery as a result of our proposed merger with Continental later this year.

Non-Fuel Expense

The company estimates third quarter 2010 mainline non-fuel unit cost per ASM (CASM), excluding profit sharing and certain accounting charges, to be up 3.8% to 4.8% year-over-year, and consolidated CASM, excluding profit sharing and certain accounting charges, to be up 3.3% to 4.3% year-over-year. For the full-year 2010, the company estimates mainline and consolidated CASM, excluding fuel, profit sharing and certain accounting charges to be up 2.0% to 3.0% year-over-year.

Fuel Expense

The company estimates mainline fuel price, including the impact of cash settled hedges, to be $2.40 per gallon for the third quarter and $2.34 for the full year based on the July 16th forward curve.

Non-Operating Income/Expense

Non-operating expense is estimated to be $170 million to $180 million for the third quarter and $655 million to $665 million for the full year.

Income Taxes

Because of its net operating loss carry-forwards, the company expects to pay minimal cash taxes for the foreseeable future and is not recording incremental tax benefits at this time. The company expects an effective tax rate of 0% for the third quarter and full year 2010.

Capital Spending and Scheduled Debt and Capital Lease Payments

Of the planned roughly $350 million in non-aircraft capital expenditures for 2010, approximately $125 million has been spent as of the end of the second quarter. The company expects scheduled debt and capital lease payments of approximately $220 million in the third quarter and $410 million for the remainder of the year.

Fuel Hedge Positions

For the third quarter, the company has hedged 80% of its estimated consolidated fuel consumption at an average price of $79 per barrel. For the remainder of 2010, the company has hedged 74% of its estimated consolidated fuel consumption at an average price of $80 per barrel. * Projected impacts assume a common, parallel jet fuel refining crack spread consistent with July 16, 2010 forward prices, and a parallel crude forward price curve consistent with July 16, 2010 forward prices. Row headings refer to illustrative spot closing prices on July 16, 2010.

 Mainline fuel price per gallon excluding hedge impacts, but including taxes and transportation costs.

Effective April 1, 2010, the Company designated its existing fuel derivative instrument portfolio as cash flow hedges and intends to designate new contracts as cash flow hedges for accounting purposes, when possible under ASC 815, Derivatives and Hedging. Classification of these instruments as cash flow hedges permits the deferral of the effective portions of gains or losses until contract settlement. On June 30, 2010 the existing fuel derivative portfolio had a market value of $36 million, as determined on March 31, 2010, when the existing portfolio was designated as cash flow hedges, which was recorded as a non-cash mark-to-market gain in prior periods. The difference between the final settlement amount of the existing hedge contracts and their value as of March 31, 2010 will be recorded in the fuel expense line in the period in which the contracts settle. This will result in a modest difference between GAAP and non-GAAP fuel expense over the next nine months.

Non-GAAP To GAAP Reconciliations

Pursuant to SEC Regulation G, the company has included the following reconciliation of reported non-GAAP financial measures to comparable financial measures reported on a GAAP basis. The company believes that excluding fuel costs and certain other items from some measures is useful to investors because it provides an additional measure of management’s performance excluding the effects of a significant cost item over which management has limited influence, and the effects of certain other items that would otherwise make analysis of the company’s operating performance more difficult.
